C. W. ROSSELL.

Stony Plain Lit.

The Stony Plain Literary and Debating Society held its regular meeting on November 7th, at 8 p.m., in the Town Hall.

The hall was very comfortably filled. The Secretary Treas. gave a statement of the receipts and expenditures in connection with the entertainment of October 30th, which had proved to be quite a success financially. The subject of the evening was the reading of Shakespeare's play, "As you like it," of which four acts were read, different parties taking the part of the different characters. Great interest was shown in the reading of the same.

The Literary Society, this year, is a greater success than any previous year, as regards membership.

Inga M. D. Meets.

The Councillors of Inga Municipal District held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Councillor Mowat, in Carvel, on the 3rd inst. Owing to the large amount of business to be attended to, the meeting was called for 12 noon, and a quorum of Councillors was present shortly after the time stated. A ratepayer from Councillor Propp's division was present and asked to have an oldtime grievance remedied. This was promised immediate attention. A large quantity of other business was transacted, the details of which will be printed when received from the party acting as secretary.

It is understood the time and place of the next meeting will be phoned to the Councillors.

New Hog Grades.

Grading of hogs according to the Government standards came into effect last week. It is expected that the system will result in the standard of such animals being increased everywhere in the Dominion, and particularly in this province.

According to the order, all hogs going thru the Edmonton and Calgary Stockyards for slaughter are to be graded before being released to the purchaser. The same regulations also apply to hogs sent direct to the packing plants.

The various grades set, under the new regulations issued from Ottawa, are as follows:

- Grade 1—Select bacon, from 160 to 210 lbs; premium 10 per cent.
- Grade 2—Thick smooth, 160 to 210 lbs; basic price.
- Grade 3—Shop hog, 120 to 160 lbs.
- Grade 4—Heavies, 210 to 260 lbs.
- Grade 5—Extra heavies, over 260 lbs.
- Grade 6—Light and feeders, 170 lbs and down; unfinished.
- Grade 7—Rough, any weight.
- Grade 8—(a) Sows, smooth up to 350 lbs; (b) all other sows.
- Grade 9—Stags.

Following are the cuts on the several grades:
Grade 1—10 p.c. premium.
Grade 2, none.
Grade 3, 1c cut.
Grade 4, 1c cut.
Grade 5, 2c cut.
Grade 6, 3c cut.
Grade 7, 3c cut.
Grade 8 (a) 2c cut; (b) 3c cut.
Grade 9, flat price of 3c.

Begin At Home

In this column last week approval was expressed of the announced intention of the Minister of the Interior to have legislation introduced at the next session of Parliament making provision for the granting of extra homesteads to men whose present holdings had been found to be unsuitable for successful agricultural operations. At the same time the opinion was expressed that the policy now proposed to be followed in the case of these homesteaders should be extended to include other farmers located on lands found to be unsuitable for farming.

The Canada Colonization Association has embarked on a comprehensive scheme of land settlement and has adopted as its objective the settlement of ten million people in Canada in ten years. One of the cardinal features of its plan is to make careful selection of the land upon which these settlers are placed, and to keep close watch of their progress with a view to assisting them to succeed. To that end it is proposed to establish local community clubs to care for, assist, and extend a helping hand and friendly advice to these new settlers. Should it be found that, from causes over which the settler has no control, he is not succeeding, and cannot succeed, in his chosen location, then, rather than have him fail and leave the country, he is to be assisted to locate elsewhere in Canada where he can succeed.

If this is good policy insofar as settlers yet to come are concerned—and who questions its wisdom?—then is it not equally good policy to apply to people already here and who are not making a success in their present locations?

There are thousands of farmers who, after years of effort, are reluctantly forced to the conclusion that they must pull up stakes, and try a new location. If, instead of at once beginning to encourage people to come to Canada from other lands, the Canada Colonization Association devoted its efforts for the first year to finding out farmers who are in this predicament, and assisting them to new locations in these Western Provinces where they can make a success, that Association would be doing a splendid stroke of business for Canada, would establish the confidence of all people in its programme and policy, and would lay the foundation for future years of successful operation in the bringing in and locating of new settlers.

Settlers already here, but who have not made a success of farming because of conditions absolutely beyond their control, are the very type this country needs and can ill afford to lose. These men have courage. They are hard workers. They are optimists, and have year after year striven to make good. It is through no fault of their own that success has not attended their efforts. The Canada Colonization Association, therefore, can hardly do better than apply to these men the very policy they propose to apply to all new settlers coming into Canada under their auspices.

There are, admittedly, difficulties to be overcome. Many of these men are heavily in debt. Mortgage has been placed on mortgage on the unsuitable lands they now occupy and are attempting to farm. Holders of these mortgages may be averse to seeing them move away. But inasmuch as there is little hope of success attending their efforts if they remain, and as, therefore, the mortgage companies would have to take a loss in any event, would it not be the part of wisdom to confer with such mortgage holders now and reach a settlement under which these people could be moved to new locations within the Dominion? Moved elsewhere, and success attending their efforts, most of them would gradually discharge their obligations which under present conditions there is slight hope of ever being done. Again, located under more favorable circumstances these people would become profitable elements for the favorers of money which would be used to develop lands capable of earning the interest charges and ultimately paying off principal. As it now is these men cannot earn the interest, let alone see any prospect of ever paying off the principal indebtedness.

Any consideration of a sound and permanent immigration and settlement policy for Canada which does not at the outset take these, at present, unsuccessful settlers into consideration is not a sound nor complete policy because it would overlook the large class on which successful settlement must rest.

The Canada Colonization Association has a splendid opportunity to put its proposed policy to a practical test without any large expenditure of money. It will not call for any expenditures for publicity purposes, yet by making contented and successful farmers out of many who have not yet tasted the sweets of success, it will prove to be the most valuable kind of publicity for all its future work and effort in inducing others to settle in Canada.

Australia's Poet Dies Penniless

People Recognized His Genius When It Was Too Late

They gave Henry Harrison Lawson, the Australian poet and novelist, a state funeral in Sydney. Despatches described it as an "imposing affair, fitting the occasion of the laying away of the nation's sweet singer," and there was due applause from the world at large for this splendid recognition of a poet's worth—when he was dead.

While he was alive, however, Post Lawson did not fare so well. "Australia's greatest minstrel," as he was called at the time of the funeral, died penniless. Indeed, if it had not been for the public funeral under Government auspices he would have been buried as a pauper. He had been in receipt of a small pension from the Government for some time before his death, and this should be ascribed to the State of New South Wales with proper appreciation, for was it not virtually a pioneer in the gracious act of pensioning a poet?

Still, Lawson lived in poverty. The people did not realize that they had a genius in their country until he was laid away with "funeral trappings" befitting Government recognition. Then they began to buy his books.

Poor as he was, Post Lawson left a will. All his worldly belongings were mentioned in bequests. These were: Two suits of clothes, an overcoat, a necktie, a collar stud, a pen, a pipe, a tin matchbox, a pair of spectacles, a walking stick, and two packets of tobacco.

Less Coal Mined

Canadian Coal Output Is Below the Average Record

The output of coal from Canadian mines during the month of July, 1922, increased approximately 47,000 tons or 6 per cent. above the production for the preceding month, and amounted in all to 855,000 tons, but in spite of this increase the output fell short of the average record for the same month in the three preceding years by 16,000 tons, or 1.9 per cent., according to a statement issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. Considered in relation to the three-year average for the first seven months of the calendar year, the output this year was less by 112,000 tons, or 14 per cent.

Imports of coal in July declined appreciably from the quantity reported for June 10, amounting in all to 447,000 net tons, 13 per cent. below the record for the preceding month.

There was considerable revival in the export trade and a total of 243,000 tons was cleared for foreign destinations, as compared with 90,000 tons in the preceding month.

THE FALL WEATHER HARD ON LITTLE ONES

Canadian fall weather is extremely hard on little ones. One day is warm and bright, and the next yet and cold. These sudden changes bring on colds, cramps and colic, and unless baby's little stomach is kept right the result may be serious. This is nothing to equal Baby's Own Tablets in keeping the little ones well. They sweeten the stomach, regulate the bowels, break up colds and make baby thrive. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

New School Districts

Ninety New School Districts Organized in Saskatchewan Last Year
Ninety new school districts were organized in Saskatchewan last year, making a total of 4,480 districts in existence. Of these 4,268 were in operation despite the severe financial condition general all over the province. Figures for the year indicate a remarkable increase in the aggregate attendance, which totalled 178,000. It is estimated that the excess of assets over liabilities of all the districts in the province is approximately $14,000,000.

Where Farming Pays

One of the heaviest crops reported so far this year in Saskatchewan has been threshed by J. H. Jorden, farmer in the Grace district. He secured 11,278 bushels of wheat of 249 acres of summer fallow. The wheat graded No. 1, and weighed 65 pounds to the bushel. The average yield was 52 1/2 bushels an acre.

Canadian Business Men And Others Should Visit East And West And Study Conditions

A recent issue of the Canadian Manufacturer contains an article which is of particular interest to every Canadian business man. The easterner who has not seen the west and the westerner who has not seen the east are working under a severe handicap. "That the Montreal business men are keenly aware of this fact is indicated in the recent tour of the Montreal Board of Trade to the west, who had as their guests a number of British industrial men, members of Parliament and financiers. Knowledge is power, and the soundest knowledge is that which is obtained directly by oneself on the ground, heard with one's own ears and seen with one's own eyes.

It is an extraordinary thing—nevertheless a fact—that there are in the east generally many prominent business men who, year after year, do business with the west, yet who have never personally visited it. They make frequent trips to Europe and to the United States, but when it comes to personally visiting the western section of their own country, they "pass it" up in favor of some other trip. The United States slogan, "American First" might well be adapted to "See Canada First" by those business men who can fit it, will see more of their own country. The article referred to is as follows:

If you would build up a national business, you should know Canada; you should understand the difference in the viewpoints of the westerner, from that of the man in Ontario, the man in Quebec, and the man in the Maritime Provinces.

To understand men one should be familiar with the conditions under which they do business. To do this, one must visit the city or town where they do business and get close enough to see in what ways conditions are different in one locality from another.

We all know that the needs of a customer in a manufacturing city like Windsor are very far different to the needs of a prairie city like Saskatoon. But to thoroughly understand, and to be in a position to answer any demand in these places, the business man should visit these places and study each one in relation to the product he manufactures.

For instance, how many business men in Canada know what towns are affected by drought in a certain district in the west? How many know what towns should be affected by a great increase in demand for Canadian paper and pulp.

One cannot know his market too intimately; and, as everyone in business in Canada knows, the distances here are great indeed and the diversity of interests entails a serious study to be fully understood.

Apart from the purely business aspect of the matter, however, Canada offers to the tourist a wealth of places worth seeing.

The beauties of the Pacific coast cities, and their parks, the Rockies, the Okanagan and other Byways, the prairies at various times, or for that matter, at a time when they crop in, in the drives around Winnipeg; the Great Lakes; the Muskoka Lakes; the Algonquin Park; the pastoral scenery of Ontario; Niagara Falls, whirlpools and rapids; the Niagara fruit-district; the Rideau; the Thousand Islands; the drives around Toronto, Ottawa and Montreal; the Parliament buildings and the view from Parliament Hill; the St. Lawrence and Saguenay; River trips; old Quebec; the hunting and fishing grounds of New Brunswick; the seafaring life along the shores of the Maritime Provinces; the apple valleys of Nova Scotia; the harbors and beauty spots of St. John and Halifax—and these are only high spots that come readily to mind.

Travel in itself is worth while. The business man should be, and generally is, a good mixer. On this train or boat the good mixer soon meets men and women worth knowing. The consequence is a mental rejuvenation, or brushing up, that is good for any man.

One thing is sure, the man who starts out to see Canada is going to come home an enthusiastic believer in his own country and an optimist as to the future of his own business.

Memorial to War Hero

Father of Captain Ball Erects and Endows Eight Homes in England

Eight homes erected in memory of the late Captain Albert Ball, V.C., D.S.O., M.C., by his father, Alderman Albert Ball, were opened at Nottingham by Lieutenant-Colonel Leslie Wilson, M.P. The following message was read from the King:

"It is fitting that the homes should bear the name of one destined to live pre-eminent among the sons of Nottingham, who, in the great war, as in the days of Charles I., gave their all for King and country."

The homes will be occupied by the mothers or widows of men who fell in the war, and one of the first tenants will be a woman who has lost three sons. Alderman Ball, in addition to giving the houses, has endowed them, and the tenants will receive free coal and light. The capital value of the gift exceeds £20,000.

Champion Swimmers From Inland Towns

Very Few Live in Coast Towns or Villages

It is a rather strange fact that of the multitude who from time to time undertake to swim the English Channel, very few, if any, are dwellers in coast towns or villages. One would have thought that amongst the men who dwell by the sea and earn their living on the sea, the champion swimmers would be found, but the real fact is that all the swimming champions come from the inland towns. A large percentage of the fishermen cannot swim at all; they never bother to learn because of a centuries-old prejudice. They argue that if they could swim it would only prolong their death agony if they were wrecked miles away from land or the help of other boats.

A Costly Comma

Substituted For Hyphen and U.S. Lost Two Million Dollars

There is a story that the insertion of a comma once cost the United States Government the sum of $2,000,000. About forty years ago the United States Congress, in drafting the Tariff Bill, enumerated in one section the articles to be admitted on the free list. Amongst these were "all foreign fruits." The copying clerk, in his superior wisdom, omitted the hyphen, and inserted a comma after "fruit," so that the clause read "all foreign fruit, plants, etc." The mistake could not be rectified for about a year; and during this time all oranges, lemons, bananas, grapes and other foreign fruits were admitted free of duty, with a loss to the Government of at least $2,000,000 for that year.

Primitive Pot Office

Vessels on India Route Buried Letters Under Stones

In the earlier portion of the 19th century when the vessels of the East India Company called at Capetown, Table Bay and other places on their way to India, the officers of the vessels buried letters and despatches under peculiarly shaped flat stones which had the vessel's name engraved on them. These stones were eagerly sought for by homeward bound crews, whose passengers were anxious for news of those stirring days, and it is interesting to note that one of these stones, with the date and name of the ship still legible, is preserved in the vestibule of the present Capetown Post Office.

Great Britain's Policy

Sir William Schomburgk, the British economist, has said that Great Britain's "policy" of paying her debts and forgiving her debtors will eventually place her in a far sounder position than a country which declines, for any reason or another, to recognize and pay its indebtedness. That is a fine saying, the truth of which the United States seems to dispute.

There is $60,000 worth of sheet brass on the sunken Lusitania.

Germany Developing Production of Silk

Aiming to Defy Competition in Markets of World

A vigorous attempt is to be made to make Germany one of the greatest silk-producing countries of the world. It was Frederick the Great who first tried to develop silk production in the Fatherland, and the hundreds of mulberry trees which he imported and planted are still living today. The effort languished, however, and it was not till halfway through the late war that it was revived.

In 1916 a group of German women started a movement to encourage silk growing as work especially fitted for disabled soldiers. A "Women's Silk growing Club" was formed and large numbers of mulberry trees were imported and planted in various parts of the country.

The club was soon able to hold an exhibition of all-German silk—sufficient for 58 ladies' dresses. The movement flourished for a time and it was found that German cocoons were much bigger than those of other countries because the climate does not, in general, fluctuate so much. It was eventually found very difficult to keep the effort going, but experts have now taken the matter up out of economic motives. The scarcity of raw material is a serious business for the country, and in their search for new sources of supply the experts have discovered that it would not be difficult to make Germany one of the most important silk-producing countries in the world.

So special societies have been formed to take over and carry on the work of the "Women's Silk-growing Club," and they are hopeful of early and important results which will lead the way to the freeing of the German silk industry from the necessity of import of raw materials. It is hoped that large quantities of all-German silk will be on the market early next year.

The big dye firms are interested in the venture, and it is believed that co-operation with the dye interests will lead to the production of beautiful dyes which will defy competition in the markets of the world.

Gradual Transformation Is Taking Place On The Prairies As Result Of Tree Planting

For Control of Radio

Western Telephone Officials Recommend Licensing System

Seeking control of radio telephony, executives of the western provinces government telephone systems will recommend, through the Minister of Telephones to their respective legislatures, the transfer of authority from the Federal to Provincial Government of the enforcement of the Radio Telegraph Act dealing with radio telephony.

The recommendations of the Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta Government telephone systems are identical and the recommendations ask for authority to be transferred to the Minister of Telephones for the issues of licensing for transmitting or receiving stations for radio telephony. States would be licensed by the Provincial Governments and 50 per cent. of the license fee would go to the Dominion Government. Restrictions of the forwarding of commercial messages by broadcasting stations and that no commercial licenses be granted except under charter issued by the Provincial government concerned, is favored by the executive of the three government telephone services.

Greeks Destroyed Orchards

Only two ships got out of Smyrna with cargoes of this year's figs for America. The figs on the water from left nothing except the cinders of the packed figs that were ready for shipment, and the Greeks are reported to have taken this action in order to prevent them from falling into the hands of the Turks.

On the basis of 78 hours' operation a day, automobiles killed two persons in the United States every hour in 1921, a total of more than 15,500 during the year.

The Canadian prairies, from the exceeding volume no less than the high quality of their agricultural product, have achieved such world renown that the question of the fertility of the soil, climate and other factors entering into profitable farming are beyond questionable possession. There are sometimes contemplating settlers, however, who, whilst realizing the peculiar advantages farming on prairie land has from certain points of view, entertain definite objections to living upon vast, sweeping, unbroken plains, horizon-bound, treeless, devoid of shade or shelter. These objections would be justified did the Canadian prairies present such a bare, unattractive aspect, but such is no longer the case.

When the great trek to the Canadian west was first well under way, the Canadian Government proved to its own entire satisfaction that, for whatever reason few trees were found to be naturally growing on the prairie lands, it was not to be accounted for by the inability of these lands to produce and support substantial forest growth. Being satisfied to this extent, in the interest of better and more economic farming, in the fostering of more attractive living conditions, and the promotion of a spirit of content and an appreciation of the beautiful in the farming population, it inaugurated a campaign of tree-planting, at no expense to the farmer, save his initial labor in planting and subsequent care.

The establishment of a 48-acre nursery by the Government at Indian Head was closely followed by a similar establishment by the Canadian Pacific Railway at Wolsley in the same province, which organization also took extensive distribution. About five thousand farmers per year, in the three provinces, who have made application, have been satisfied. The principal varieties of trees sent out have been Russian poplar, willow and caragana, species to which the prairie soil and climate are especially adapted. In the past twenty-one years, the Canadian Government has distributed 60,415,000 seedlings and cuttings, or about 3,000,000 annually.

In the time which has elapsed since the initial work was done, the Canadian prairies have undergone a gradual transformation. Beautiful green groves of thriving trees surround many prairie farm homes, imparting shade in summer, giving shelter in winter to farm stock, having an ameliorating influence upon the living conditions within the homes, and furnishing additional touches of beauty to the landscape. Their economic value must not be underestimated. What a result! The Government's work has resulted in the establishment of 40,000 shelter belts on the prairies which are valued by their farm owners at from $500 to $5,000 each, with an average value of about $1,000.

Thankoffering For Hospitals

English Noblemen's Gift for People Who Cannot Pay

Lord Barnby, of Blyth Hall, Nottingham, head of Francis Willey and Co., Ltd., wool merchants, of Bradford, England, who has returned to business following an operation, has forwarded to the Lord Mayor of Bradford a cheque for £5,000 for division as follows: Bradford Royal Infirmary, £2,500; Bradford Eye and Ear Hospital and Bradford Children's Hospital, £1,000 each. He wrote that he fully realized that many who might need a similar operation had not sufficient money to pay for it, and he hoped his thankoffering would result in the alleviation of suffering in Bradford.

Tonnage Sunk By Germans

With time at his command to make a careful investigation, and the disposition to derive into statistics, Dr. Christian Gleditsch Tschömmel, a German publicist, has announced that a total of 19,000,000 tons of enemy mercantile shipping was sunk by German submarines during the war. Of this aggregate, he says, 13,500,000 tons went down during the unrestricted campaign beginning on Feb. 1, 1917, including 12,500,000 tons in English ships.

There's a Lot of Laughter At The End-of-the-Earth About Kiwis.

A SHORT while ago Stella was story telling to her four Brownies and they were particularly interested in her account of the Moa bird. It is a bird of the long, long ago, and for over five hundred years there had been no Moas, the Fairy explained to her Brownies; that Moa eggs were a long time ago have been found deeply imbedded under the soil, and that that is how people learned about them and their habits and appearance.

"The Moa was twice as large as an Ostrich, in fact," said Stella. "The Ostrich is its descendant, and Moas have left down the ages after them yet another descendant, the Kiwi bird."

"What a foolish name!" he laughed. "There is something about Pimble's laugh that makes everyone who hears him join in, and in about one-half of a second the other three Brownies (and even the Fairy) were laughing heartily. They laugh so long and they laugh so heartily that pretty soon, even though they were still laughing, they had forgotten just what they were really laughing about. Have you ever heard a little child laugh that way? I have. They laugh so long and they laugh so hard and they have such fun laughing that they soon forget what the joke was."

"The Kiwi," Stella at last explained, "is never so much smaller than the Moa or even the Ostrich. It is only about two feet long, though it reminds one very much of what the huge Moa must have looked like; for it also has no wings."

"Mrs. Kiwi," Stella continued, "once came to the End-of-the-Earth with a wish for me to grant. It was to make her much larger than Mr. Kiwi, for it seems he was continually boasting about his enormous Moa ancestor and his own size, and if he got too big Mrs. Kiwi's nerves. Now that she is bigger than he is he no longer seems so fond of the subject and she has some peace. When she was here she told me all about herself."

"She said that Kiwi cannot fly and that they are very fast runners. She told me they only go around after dark and spend the days at home in their nests, which they build in hollows at the foot of some tree. Mrs. Kiwi, Stella added, "seemed particularly proud of her egg, which she talked a lot about. She only laid a single one at a time in the nest, but she said it is terribly large and creamy white."

"It strikes me," laughed Pimble, "that they are a very beautiful lot. Mr. Kiwi boasts to Mrs. Kiwi about his size. She comes to you, gets you to make her bigger than him so that 'he can't boast any more and then she starts in and boasts to you about her own and only egg! Did she boast about anything else?"

"Yes," answered Stella, "she did. 'I know it!' she would boast triumphantly. 'And what about?'"

"Her nose!"

"Her nose?" and Pimble roared. "I suppose she thought it the biggest, longest and the most beautiful nose in the world?"

"Well," admitted the Fairy, "I can't say that it was pretty, but it certainly was long! But the thing that is strange about the Kiwi is that it is really a bill!"

"But everyone knows that bills are long!"

"Yes," laughed Stella, "but the odd thing about the Kiwi bill is that, unlike most birds the nostrils are at the tip of end of it. Here is a picture of the Kiwi."

"Goodness!" said Pimble when he saw it. "I certainly don't think much of Kiwi—with all his boasting and nothing to boast about—at least in looks!"

"You'll notice," said Stella, "that in life those are the only ones that ever boast."

Bar B Ranch,

December 4th, 19—

I am homesick, homesick, HOME-SICK, and only my pride, together with a feeling of obligation towards Mrs. Bingham, keep me from telegraphing for a berth on the next boat. If I were to leave Carbon City to-morrow I could be home in time for Christmas. That wretched scariest fever seems to have burned up all my strength of mind, and it is only by filling every moment with employment that I am able to keep from giving in to my loneliness. The home letters are full of Christmas plans, and it is almost more than I can bear. Mother coaxes me to come home, and I can read between the lines that they all want me. But I will not go; there is really no reason, beyond that of self-indulgence, why I should go, and I do not approve of self-indulgence.

Mrs. Bingham still watches over me professionally. I am not growing strong as quickly as she would like, so she insists upon giving me a tonic. According to the wrapper on the bottle, the tonic is "the nutritive constituents of the blood of beef." At first I thought that it consisted principally of a clever combination of bad tastes, but by again referring to the label I found that it contained the following unpronounceable ingredients, along with several more familiar ones: hemoglobin, sarrubum, sodium chloride, and phosphoric anhydride. If all cattle have that stuff flowing in their veins, it is no wonder that even the mildest dairy-cow sometimes kicks the milking-pail over.

We have been to the Agency, to Page's Park, and to the Carroll farm within the last month, and we have had a great deal of company here; but I do not care for anything—I just want to go home. The Carrolls have had a stroke of luck; while I was ill a bachelor brother of Mr. Carroll's died (very conveniently for them) and left them enough money to keep them in comfort at home. Mrs. Carroll was fairly running over with happiness when she came to say good-bye to us. They sail from New York this week.

I have written forty letters since last Sunday, and half a dozen or so remain to be written to-day. My Christmas shopping was conspicuous by its absence this year. I sent each of the home-folk a pair of beaded slipper moccasins made by Ellen, Prince of Wales, and I sent Mary the money to buy presents in Winnipeg for my Canadian friends. Mary loves to shop, even for someone else. I have not been to Carbon City since I was ill, and I did not like to trouble Mrs. Bingham to get anything for me when she went into town—I do not suppose I should have been able to get what I wanted in so small a place, anyway.

Mr. Livingstone has been away for nearly two weeks. He went to Elba to attend the marriage of his eldest brother, the one who manages the farm. We expect him back to-morrow or the next day.

Bar B Ranch,

December 27, 19—

I greatly fear that my diary, like many other diaries, is about to become a thing of fits and starts. Either I am too busy to write, or I have nothing to write about. However, my book is almost full. I certainly found enough to write about when everything was new and strange, and no doubt I shall find it interesting reading when I am a be-capped and be-spectacled old lady.

I am not nearly so homesick as I was a few weeks ago, although I still wake in the morning with a very vivid realization of the size of the earth. If I invested in a nice little globe, say nine inches in diameter, would Wilmington seem any closer to the Bar B? I wonder? If what the purists call the use of "wonder" in this connection would provide an unimpeachable answer, I should have rubbed the sleep out of my eyes a voice comes from the other side of the room, "Oh, Elinor! Is it time to get up already?" and the edge is immediately taken off my homesickness. Of course you will guess at once to whom the voice belongs, so why should I try to be mysterious simply to whet the curiosity of a possible but improbable reader?

A week ago to-day Mrs. Bingham and Mr. Livingstone went to Carbon City to bring out the Christmas mail. Sunny and I were sitting in the freight when they came home just at dusk, Sunny busy chattering about the probable nature of Santa Claus's load, and I pretending to listen but with my thoughts thousands of miles away. It was very windy, so windy that we could not hear anything outside the house, and I did not know that "Mother and Uncle Don" had returned until someone slipped up behind my chair and blindfolded me with a pair of cold but very live hands.

Miss Eliot, I laughed Mr. Livingstone. "Oh, Auntie Elinor," shouted Sunny, almost as though he were a ventriloquist, "guess who's here? We'll have a good time now, you bet!" And for this once Mrs. Bingham let Sunny's slang pass unprovoked.

I had been blindfolded by that parti-colored band so often to be in doubt as to their identity, but I could not get their owner's name past the bar of my throat! "My herself—of course it was no one else—was half laughing and half crying, and saying over, 'I wanted to come and see you, but I had wouldn't let me, because I never had scarlet fever. And you might have died away out here, with nobody care whether you got better or not!'"

"Oh, I say, Miss Arnold, that is rather unfair," objected Mr. Livingstone. And when neither Mary nor I answered him, he picked Sunny up and left the room, leaving in a most tragic voice as he went, "We may just as well make ourselves scarce, kiddie. Auntie Elinor doesn't want us any more." Mrs. Bingham followed them.

I lighted the gas and then turned Mary around and around to see if she had changed. She is, if anything, gristlier than ever, and in her long grey squirrel coat and grey squirrel trunk trimmed with pink rosettes she made a charming picture. I trembled for the susceptible Mr. Page.

To tell the truth, the Bar B men, from Mr. Bingham to Lee, are all more or less susceptible to Mary's charms. The very morning after she arrived she went into the kitchen, borrowed a big apron from Lee, and proceeded to make an immense dish of chocolate fudge. Lee all the while looking on with undisguised admiration, and handing her the necessary articles almost before she asked for them—and with the rest of us Lee is absolute monarch in his own domain.

Then, too, Mary flirts disgracefully with Mr. Livingstone, whom she insists upon calling "Uncle Don." He seems to enjoy the process as much as she does, and returns the compliment by calling her "The Little One" altogether regardless of who hears him. / On Christmas Eve the Davids, Dr. McMurray, Mr. Page, and Miss Marshall were here for dinner.

Mr. Livingstone has been away for nearly two weeks. He went to Elba to attend the marriage of his eldest brother, the one who manages the farm. We expect him back to-morrow or the next day.

NEW LAMP BURNS 94% AIR

Beats Electric or Gas

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U.S. Government and 25 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe, common kerosene (kerosene) or kerosene. The inventor, T. V. Johnson, 579 McDermott Ave., Winnipeg, is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you could get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.

and Miss Marshall's face as she watched Mary and Mr. Livingstone was a study in expression. Mary and I went upstairs with her when she went to put on her wraps before going home, and she took the opportunity to ask Mary if she had known Mr. Livingstone long. "Why, no," replied Mary, almost too sweetly "I never saw him until last summer!"

GASSED OVERSEAS

SHELL SHOCKED

and RHEUMATISM

Mr. F. M. Blaquiere, Morinville, Alta., writes:—"After three years service overseas I returned to Canada almost a complete wreck. I had been gassed, and was suffering from shell shock and rheumatism, and was so nervous I could not sleep at night. I tried many medicines and doctors, but none of them did me any good for any length of time. I got so bad, in the Fall of 1919, my hands were so shaky I could scarcely hold anything, and it seemed as if I had a steel band pressing on my head. The least excitement would almost drive me into fits, and my whole system seemed to be in disorder. I had cramps in my legs nearly every night, and hot and cold chills running up and down my back nearly all the time. One day I decided to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and after I had taken six boxes I began to feel better. I kept on using them and after a while I was completely relieved."

Jap System of Self-Defence Taught by German Instructor.

A German policeman has just finished giving instruction in jiu-jitsu, the Japanese method of self-protection, to guardians of the public order in Spain. Herr Wozny of the Berlin criminal police department, returned recently from the engagement for a brief visit home. Having established a reputation in Berlin as a police instructor, especially in jiu-jitsu, Wozny's services were "borrowed" by the Spanish authorities. His commission included the development of police jiu-jitsu teachers at Barcelona and instruction looking toward the establishment of a jiu-jitsu squad in Madrid.

Victims of Lynch Law

Many Punished in States Without Any Discoverable Reason

During the thirty-three years since 1859, eighty-three women have been lynched in the United States. Of these, seventeen were of Caucasian blood. Mississippi heads the list with fifteen instances, Texas comes next with ten, and Alabama third with nine. Many of these disgraceful episodes have been based on the charge of murder, but in a surprising number no reason has been discoverable. In the same period of time the total number of victims of lynch law was 3,436, of whom white men and women numbered 718. An attempt is being made to enroll a million women among the "Anti-Lynching Crusaders" who will seek to create public sentiment throughout the country against this most abhorrent of all the examples of mob violence. The organization will also support the Dyer Anti-Lynching Bill in Congress.

All Night with Asthma—Everyone knows how attacks of asthma often keep their victims awake the whole night long. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy, which positively does drive away the attack.

Warning From Von Hindenburg

The speech made by Field-Marshal von Hindenburg, on his seventy-fifth birthday, is to be noted. "We must, above all," he said, "have men who know well how to exploit the possibilities of foreign policy." There could be no doubt that warning that Germany will make mischief if rifts are discovered in the Entente.

The United States makes about 120,000,000 lead pencils a year, or more than eight pencils for each of its inhabitants.

Could Not Eat

Constipation is caused by a torpid condition of the liver. Doing with salts, castor oil, etc., move the bowels, cannot afford more than temporary relief.

If you are to rid yourself of this ailment and the scores of annoying symptoms and diseases which come in its wake, it is necessary to get the liver right by such treatment as is suggested in this letter:

Mrs. Alvin Richards, R. R. No. 1, Seeley's Bay, Ont., writes:

"For two years I was afflicted with indigestion, and in the morning when I got up my breath was bad. I had poor appetite, and just felt like eating certain foods. I used many different medicines as a laxative without benefit, and the doctor's medicine did not help me at all. Finally I tried Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and found them better than anything I had ever tried. I can highly recommend them to anyone troubled with constipation or kidney trouble."

Turks Are Warned By Britain That They Are Courting Trouble

London.—Great Britain refuses to purchase peace with the Turks at the cost of "humiliation and disgrace," Marquis Curzon, British Secretary for Foreign Affairs, declared in the course of an address at the Canon Street Hotel.

The attitude of the Kemalists, reflected in their recent demand that the Allied troops leave Constantinople, will not be tolerated, he added, and he gave that warning to the Turkish Nationalists that they will come to sure disaster if they venture to oppose their military power to the strength of Great Britain and the might of Europe.

The gravity of the situation in the Near East was emphasized by Lord Curzon when he termed it "the most definite menace to the peace of the world."

He asserted the Turkish pretensions were without justification and could not be tolerated.

"There is only one way whereby you can make peace," declared Lord Curzon, "and that is by absolutely harmonious action between the principal powers."

"The policy of the Turks is one of nationalization gone wild and is at all suicidal in its character."

"There is absolute accord between the Allied Generals and High Commissioners on the spot. Turkey must learn that there is a limit to the concessions which we are willing to make her."

Lord Curzon said the recent Turkish action was a complete answer to the largely fictitious agitation among the Indian Moslems representing this country as hostile to Islam. The Turks had themselves done the very things Great Britain was represented as aiming at.

CAN THE DEAF BE MADE TO HEAR?

This question can be answered both ways. If the deafness is due to Catarrh, success is general if the sufferer persists in the use of Catarrhine, and thereby drives Catarrh out of the system. Penetrating through the passages of the ear, the soothing vapor of Catarrhine relieves the inflammation, destroys the seeds of Catarrh and thereby allows nature to reassert herself. For Catarrhal deafness, pain over the eyes, plugged nostrils and other symptoms associated with Catarrh, use Catarrhine. You'll be more than pleased with the quick improvement in your condition. Montreal.—According to records completed by the Grain Clearance Board here, the port of Montreal has already exceeded this year to date the total grain shipments of 1931, which amounted to the record quantity of 138,453,980 bushels. The total has reached 139,956,966 bushels to date, which the end of navigation will probably exceed 150,000,000 bushels.

Fire Destroys Eleven Autos

Origin of $25,000 Blaze in Gravelbourg Garage Unknown

Gravelbourg.—Fire caused a total loss of $25,000 when Deaust's Garage was burned to the ground. The origin of the fire is unknown. All the stocks of repairs, oils and eleven cars were destroyed, only one car being taken out of the burning building before the flames drove the firefighters out.

Several gasoline explosions occurred making the work of firefighting dangerous. The fire started in the workshop at the back of the garage and spread so quickly that the workmen barely had time to get out without being burned.

Mild Winter Predicted

Trappers Say Animals Not Preparing

North Bay, Ont.—Residents of the northern woods, long famed for their prophecies in regard to coming weather, are unanimous in this fall that all signs point to an unusually mild winter.

In support of this forecast, visiting trappers state definitely that the beavers are dilly-dallying unbecomingly with the construction of their winter houses. Observers also state that chipmunks and squirrels are collecting extremely small stores of food for the coming months.

New York.—The British schooner Buena, of Yarmouth, N.S., which was seized on September 14 with a cargo of liquor nine miles off the New Jersey coast, was released by United States customs authorities on instructions from the Treasury Department.

The release was in line with the decision to hold no ships found outside the three-mile limit for violation of the prohibition enforcement law unless it could be proved they were communicating with the shore by means of their own small boats.

Conference Held At Ottawa To Discuss Immigration Question

Ottawa.—Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of Immigration, recently addressed the conference on immigration here, in which the minister said he was naturally greatly interested in an effort being made to get settlers, and was sure that the conference would produce good results.

He said it was the policy of the Government to lend aid when it was needed, and he appreciated receiving in concrete form the results of the experience of the various transportation representatives. He also expressed the hope that such conferences would be held frequently in the future, for it was only through hearty co-operation and through the co-ordinating of efforts that the best results could be obtained.

Today British and continental immigration received attention. Owing to the presence today of J. Obed Smith, Superintendent of Immigration for the Dominion Government in London, and Sir George McF. Brown, of the Canadian Pacific Railway, the members had the benefit of first-hand information on the situation both in the British Isles and on the continent. The two gave an outline of the measures they considered necessary for the doing of effective immigration work overseas.

It came out during the discussion that the Government has under consideration the extending of an invitation to those countries where desirable settlers may be secured, and who are eligible for citizenship.

A feature of the conference was the spirit of hearty co-operation manifested. The co-ordinating of effort on the part of transportation and colonization interests with the Government will, it is said, produce especially good results in the publicity and advertising work, eliminating much duplication.

It is understood that as a result of the conference the Government will invite the transportation interests to appoint representatives to a smaller standing committee to co-ordinate all the publicity efforts of the parties involved.

DISCUSS FRANCO- CANADIAN PACT

MINISTER OF FINANCE CONFIDENT OVER RESULT OF CONFERENCE

Paris.—Hon. W. S. Fielding, Minister of Finance for Canada, who, with Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Canadian Minister of Marine and Fisheries, has been holding a series of conferences here with M. Digi, French Minister of Commerce and Representative of the Foreign Office, with a view to settling various commercial questions of mutual interest to France and Canada, addressed a meeting of British traders. Mr. Fielding said that although it was impossible at present to announce any details of the proposed new treaty, he was able to say that he and his colleague had been received by the French minister in the most cordial manner and he had every reason to believe most satisfactory arrangements would result from the conference.

Urges Sun Cure For Tuberculosis

Statistics Support Theory Advanced
By French Doctor

Paris.—More extensive use of heliotherapy or sun baths in the treatment of tuberculosis has been urged upon the Academy of Medicine by Dr. Amand Delille. He reported that a number of tubercular cases and also sufferers from peritonitis had been cured by sun baths in various sanatoria in Southern France.

The sun cure was further praised by Dr. Maurice Benoit, who declared it was beneficial for cancer.

Statistics were presented to the institute to show that cancer is unknown in the tropics and prevalent in colder countries in proportion to their lack of clear sunshine.

News of Duffield District.

Mr. Walter Street was responsible for a splendid social evening in the Smithfield School last week. Walter is more concerned about quality than quantity.

The regular meeting of the U F Local was held on Saturday. Mr. Joe Best was elected to represent the Local at the conference in Calgary this month regarding co-operative shipping of live stock. Members are requested to keep in mind that the election of officers will take place at the next regular meeting, next month.

Scott tells us that it is not absolutely necessary to have two "helmus" in a Ford car—one in the rear seat is sufficient.

The social given by the Ladies' Aid of Hopkins Community on Thanksgiving night was the best of the season.
The church was comfortably filled. The miscellaneous program was thoroughly enjoyed, as also were the refreshments served.

We are informed that W Hellum had a bell attached to his ford the other evening.
Gingle Bell! Gingle Bell!
Gingle all night Long! Very much out of keeping with a Ford, Willie!

Clarence Trebel reports it "Quite wintry" around his place. You'll soon have to hedge in Clarence.

The Thanksgiving Supper and dance given under the auspices of the Athletic Association was a decided success.
Mrs McDougall was good enough to loan her rooms for serving supper, and the school was used for dancing and card playing. The ladies are to be commended for the

Nothing to Do with the Con- sequences.

We were amused at reading a paragraph recently in one of the metropolitan dailies to the effect that it is the duty of the newspaper as well as to its interest, to publish all the news without regard to what the editor or publisher might fancy to be its probable effects. In other words he has nothing to do with the consequences.
This is an excellent theory for the editor of a city daily, who sits perched up in a little room thirteen stories above the busy world; but let our distinguished city friends try a weekly, put his theory into practice, and if he does not have something to do with the consequences, it will be because he is a better sprinter than most of his brethren of the country press—

menu, and hearty co-operation, "for what is a table richly spread without a woman at its head." The schoolhouse was comfortably crowded for dancing until someone reported the atmosphere was too heavy to breathe, it was not of a quality contributing to health. Well, after the cause had been removed, everybody felt much more comfortable.

The Athletic Association has decided to build the skating rink in the village, located at the rear of MrSchinke's property. It will be central.
The well digging is in progress and will soon be completed. This will serve as a "ViMage Pump" when not used by the rink. The club is going to considerable expense and labor to furnish this means of recreation, and it deserves all the assistance we can give—financially and otherwise. Let us get behind them and push.

FARMERS' REQUIREMENTS

THE business and banking requirements of farmers are many and various. This Bank, because of its close contact with farmers, has learned through practical experience how to serve them in a definite and satisfactory manner.

It has co-operated with them when they had to purchase land, seed, stock, and implements and has helped them to save and to maintain their finances in an orderly manner.
Our branch manager will be pleased to have you consult with him.

The Weekly Poem.

And now has come the time of year
When farmers sell their junk.
Regardless of the winds and gales,
The Auction brings a lot of males
To blow the hard-earned plank.
We stand around, a motley crew.
Upon the frozen lawn,
And bid in clurn and chicken coop
And hear the low drawn mournful whoop
Of "Going-going! GONE!"
